The First Horizontal Interaction between the Administrative Enforcement Agency and the Insurance Bureau

Innovative Cross-field Collaboration for Jointly Promoting Fair and Reasonable Enforcement of Rights in Life Insurance Contracts

Huang Yu-Yuan, the Director-General of the Administrative Enforcement Agency (AEA) of the Ministry of Justice (MOJ), together with Deputy Director Yeh Tzu-Chiang and the relevant AEA staff visited in person Director-General Shih Chiung-Hwa of Insurance Bureau, FSC on April 24 to discuss issues of rights and enforcement of life insurance contracts. The visit was the first horizontal contact and interaction between the AEA and Insurance Bureau, demonstrating the spirit of cooperation, integration and mutual support between administrative institutes.

During the meeting, Director-General Huang particularly expressed his gratitude to the Insurance Bureau for its support and guidance to the “Seminar of Expert Consulting on Practical Issues in the Enforcement of Rights of Life Insurance Contracts” recently held by the AEA, and for providing abundant valuable opinions from the perspective of the insurance competent authority on various aspects of administrative enforcement, which offers important reference for the practical works of properly enforcing rights in life insurance contracts by branches of the AEA. Director-General Shih also stated that the Insurance Bureau is cooperating with the AEA with great pleasure, and it will also provide the relevant necessary assistance with the belief that the joint efforts of both institutes can generate more positive benefits to general public rights and interests, as well as the interaction between the AEA and insurance sector.

This exchange and interaction between the AEA and Insurance Bureau not only solidified mutual trust, but it also provided a better understanding of each other's works, laying a solid foundation for jointly promoting public-private cooperation in the future. The AEA will continue to seek opportunities for cooperation with various administrative institutes and professional groups with the aim to more efficiently solve practical problems encountered during the enforcement process, and promote the fairness and rationality of legal enforcement with innovative mindset.
